

Views of the panelists on ASER Launch

26-1-2012.

Asad Omer (President ENGRO Pakistan):

What I like the most is the quality impact on the children take the risk of disagreeing with Planning Commission chairman Dr Nadeem-ul-Haque .The quality of our education will determine the quality of our output .This is how we can compete with the world .The competitiveness of your work force results from quality and quantity of education. One education system for one nation is what we need. The importance of partnerships between Govt. Private Sector is demand based and skills based. We need to be innovative in creating resources for our nation. The results of this report are very encouraging.
